

Kevin Kelly

Kevin is a Calgary lawyer, Chartered Arbitrator and mediator with over 27 years of experience in the areas of Alternate Dispute Resolution, Real Estate, Estate Planning and Business Law. As a nationally accredited mediator and arbitrator, Kevin is result-oriented and seeks to provide every client with efficient and effective counsel. He has extensive experience in governance and strategic planning and thrives in collaborative environments.

He holds a Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) with distinction in Administrative Law and Commercial Law from Cardiff University School of Law.

Since 2016, Kevin is a learning group facilitator and assessor for the Canadian Centre for Professional Legal Education and facilitates modules and workshops about various legal subjects.

Alongside his career as a lawyer, he currently serves on several boards, tribunals, committees and commissions such as the ADR Institute of Alberta, the Community Mediation Calgary Society, and is a member of the Council of Canadian Administrative Tribunals.

Passionate about sports, Kevin desires to make meaningful contributions towards the Canadian sport community.
